

Personal Information Collection Statement

I have read and understood the following personal information collection statement, and authorise and consent to the stated use of personal data.

“Personal Information Collection Statement –

The Hong Kong Academy of Finance (AoF) is committed to complying with the relevant provisions of the Hong Kong Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance. Unless otherwise specified, provision of personal data (“Data”) by a registrant is voluntary but the AoF may not be able to process the registration for the event without such Data. The Data collected will be used by the AoF for identity verification, administrative (including maintenance of registration records / handling of inquiries), communication (including distribution of information regarding future activities of the AoF), conducting internal analytics, preparing statistics or carrying out research, and other purposes related to the objectives, functions and activities of the AoF. The Data collected may also be transferred to third party service providers, whether within or outside Hong Kong, who provide administrative or other services to the AoF with respect to the AoF’s operations and activities for such purposes. Save as described above, the AoF will not disclose the Data collected to an external party unless the relevant data subject’s consent has been obtained or if required or permitted to do so by law or for seeking legal advice. Where the registrant is providing Data of another person, the registrant represents and agrees that the registrant has obtained such person’s authorisation and consent to the provision of the Data to the AoF and the stated uses by the AoF of the Data provided. A data subject has the right to request access to and correction of his or her Data held by the AoF, and such requests should be made in writing to our data protection officer Mr Leon So at llhso@aof.org.hk. Please also email our data protection officer if you do not wish to receive information regarding future activities of the AoF. For the purposes of this Personal Information Collection Statement, “AoF” refers to the entities comprising the AoF, namely the Hong Kong Academy of Finance Limited and its subsidiaries.”